Synopsis of the Armenian Message

(Ephesians 4:1-6)

Most often in Christian circles the differences that divide us are stressed. Non-Christians also use the divisions that they see in Christianity to accuse us of not being able to agree between ourselves.

After explaining how God through Christ has brought Jews and Gentiles into unity under Christ's body, the church, now in this passage tells them how they should live as a united group. He shows them that the church is made stronger through unity.

One Body. The term body describes very well how we are different and yet function with each other. None are alike, but all are one unit.

One Head – Christ. The head can only function when the members of the body listen. The head has the final word.

One Spirit. God breathes in the breath of life. It is the same for the church. God breaths into the church the breath of life and creates a living church. Unless the breath is in the body, it dies. God's Spirit is in all of us directing us into all truth, conviction, comfort, and life. A Holy Spirit-controlled church is vibrantly alive because each member of the body is walking as the Spirit leads.

One Hope. Our earthly goal should be the world redeemed in Christ. This hope unites us in a purpose. We serve, we give, we witness, we love and we reach out.

Friends, let us live worthy of our Head, Christ, and bring honor to Him by being united as His body.
